DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 – 43 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 33-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. As per claim 33, Applicants amended the preamble of the claim with “the computer-readable medium being a tangible medium” still remains non-statutory subject matter since the specification discloses intrinsic evidence of the computer-readable medium could even be paper, as such the subject matter is not limited to a process, machine, manufacture, or a composition of matter [Please see MPEP chapter 2106].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 2, 4-8, 11-13, 15-19, 22-24, 26-30, 33-35, 37-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heard et al. [US Patent Application No 2006/0242685], in view of Balogh et al. [US Patent No 7,047,258].

5. As per claim 1, Heard discloses the invention as claimed including a system for automatically updating of computer access settings [i.e. automatically push the security policy to the mobile device] [810, Figure 8; Abstract; and paragraphs 0027 and 0030], comprising:

at least one computer access setting for a respective user of a computer [i.e. policy data] [paragraphs 0054, 0055, Permission Policies and Rule Policies tables], one version of the at least one computer access setting being stored in a remote database [i.e. LDAP storage directory] [108, Figure 1; and paragraphs 0029, 0033, 0044 and 0045] and another version of the at least one computer access setting being stored in the computer [i.e. the policy data is decrypted and stored in the rules engine store] [612, Figure 6; and paragraph 0061, 0062 and 0066];

a server to communicate with the remote database [102, Figure 1; and paragraphs 0027 and 0028]; and a control unit to communicate with the server [i.e. gatekeeper] [104, Figure 1; and paragraphs 0030 and 0031] and to automatically update the versions of the at least one computer access settings in the computer and the remote database that is accessible to the server to coincide with each other responsive to at least one computer event [i.e. updating policy information and distributing the updated policy information to the mobile device when synchronization] [808, 810, Figure 8; paragraphs 0059, 0073, 0074; and claims 1 and 2].

Heard does not specifically disclose

the at least one control access setting being stored in the remote database is updated to reflect changes made to the at least one control access setting being stored in the computer and vice versa.

Balogh discloses

the at least one control access setting being stored in the remote database is updated to reflect changes made to the at least one control access setting being stored in the computer and vice versa [i.e. update the different of data in local and remote databases] [Figure 10A; col 11, lines 62-col 12, lines 15; and col 13, lines 27-38].

It would have been obvious to a person skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Heard and Balogh because the teaching of updating data in Balogh would enable the same information to be maintained throughout the system to prevent system corruption.

6. As per claim 2, Heard discloses wherein the at least one computer event includes user log-in on the computer and the computer being connected to the Internet [i.e. mobile device initiates data synchronization and gatekeeper authenticates mobile device] [810, Figure 8; and paragraphs 0069, 0072 and 0073].

7. As per claim 4, Heard discloses wherein the at least one computer event includes the start up of the computer and the computer being connected to the Internet [i.e. re-authenticate after device has been turn off] [Rule Policies table].

8. As per claim 5, Heard discloses wherein the one version of the computer access settings being stored in the remote database maintains the current authorization settings [i.e. new or change policy package] [802, Figure 8; and paragraph 0071] and the another version of the computer access settings being stored in the computer maintains the latest reporting information [paragraphs 0058, 0059 and 0074].

9. As per claim 6, Heard discloses wherein the computer access settings contain an allow list of information that the respective user is authorized to access [i.e. list of device that can be communicated with] [paragraph 0066].

10. As per claim 7, Heard discloses wherein the computer access settings contain a block list of information that the respective user is not authorized to access [i.e. list of device that cannot be communicated with] [paragraph 0066].

11. As per claim 8, Heard discloses wherein the computer access settings specify if the respective user is authorized to access a particular computer application [i.e. control application access and use] [Permission Policies table; and paragraphs 0032 and 0054].

12. As per claim 11, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 1. Furthermore, Heard discloses means for modifying the first version of the computer access setting [i.e. modifying security policy] [Figure 8; and paragraphs 0071, 0073 and 0074].

13. As per claim 12, Heard discloses wherein the second version of the computer access settings contain a history of user computer activity [i.e. history mobile device user activity] [paragraphs 0075 and 0076], the system further comprising means for transferring the second version of the computer access settings to the remote location so that the first version at the remote location is updated to include the history of user computer activity contained in the second version upon the at least one computer event [i.e. the log file transfers to the server] [paragraphs 0058 and 0059].

14. As per claim 13, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 2.

15. As per claims 15-19, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 4-8.

16. As per claims 22 and 23, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 11 and 12.

17. As per claim 24, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 13.

18. As per claims 26-30, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 15-19.

19. As per claims 33 and 34, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 11 and 12.

20. As per claim 35, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 13.

21. As per claims 37-41, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 15-19.

22. Claims 3, 9, 10, 14, 20, 21, 25, 31, 32, 36, 42 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heard et al. [US Patent Application No 2006/0242685], in view of Balogh et al. [US Patent No 7,047,258], and further in view of Dunn [US Patent No 7,076,558].

23. As per claim 3, Heard and Balogh do not specifically disclose wherein the at least one computer event includes user log-out on the computer and the computer being connected to the Internet. Dunn discloses wherein the at least one computer event includes user log-out on the computer and the computer being connected to the Internet [i.e. disconnect] [col 37, lines 4-11]. It would have been obvious to a person skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Heard, Balogh and Dunn because the teaching of Dunn would allow a web services user to control access to user-specific information stored in associated with a software service offered by a web-service provider [Dunn, col 1, lines 6-10; and col 2, lines 10-21].

24. As per claim 9, Dunn discloses wherein the computer access settings specify if the respective user is authorized to access a particular web site [col 39, lines 53-col 41, lines 54].

25. As per claim 10, Dunn discloses wherein the computer access settings specify if the respective user is authorized to access a category of information that includes computer applications and web sites [col 8, lines 52-61].

26. As per claim 14, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 3.

27. As per claim 20 and 21, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 9 and 10.

28. As per claim 25, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 14.

29. As per claims 31 and 32, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 20 and 21.

30. As per claim 36, it is rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claim 14.

31. As per claims 42 and 43, they are rejected for similar reasons as stated above in claims 20 and 21.

Art Unit: 2154

32. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-43 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

33. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
